WAPLEworld Invades the IWU!
And the Fans Don't Really Know What to Think.

howdy there

a letter from Spanky

Get the name right. The 'a' in Waple is NOT 'a' as in apple, or 'a' as in waffle, but IS 'a' as in maple. Just say Way-Pull. Got it? Well, okay then.

Just so you know, everything in this newsletter is either fictional or true.

There are no right or wrong answers to anything said herein and we are exempt from all litigations brought against us by way of this disclaimer. If we ever accidentally hurt the feelings of anyone in this publication, we are regretfully sorry and don't want any trouble, so let me just apologize now... greatly.

Now that that's over with, let the festivities begin.

Yee ha...

Howdy there all, and welcome to WAPLEworld. I know most of you probably don't know what this is, so I'll make it easy.

WAPLEworld is a 'Zine that follows the lives of the Wonderful Waple Family... a rasslin family. Quite possibly the worst rasslin' family that ever existed. So far, the Waple Boys haven't won a match, but they will. Oh yes, they will.

The WAPLEworld Empire has two ways of getting all our fancy words and pictures to you, the average person. There is the thing you're looking at, WAPLEworld... the 'Zine.

And there's WAPLEworld... the Web Site. You can't see that one in the 'Zine, but if you are on the net, we're at www.wapleworld.com.

I strongly encourage you to visit the site because it is updated daily, has several features that can't be done in the 'Zine, and is in color.

As far as what's in here, you will see lots of funny stuff... WAPLEized views on real rasslin', stories about the Waple Family, and lots of other nifty things. So sit back, strap yourself in, and please... remember to flush.

Just Who Are Those Waples?

Spaz Pfitzwaple... (Acting) Manager A former Waple wannabe, "The Medicated One" said that Wally put him in charge while Wally was away. He's very annoying.

Biff Waple...Rassler Only remaining son of rasslin' legend Gunther von Waple. Biff is on his way to beating his father's record losing streak. Lisps because of a hot pizza injury. Comparable to Arnold from Diff'rnt Strokes.

Spanky Waplespunk...Editor/Webmaster Biff's twin brother (same mother, different father). Spanky started the WAPLEworld empire as a way to pick up chicks. Lives with mom.

Lou Waplemeyer...Trainer This Beavis reject likes fire, plays with chainsaws, and uses the word "like" too much. Has the Waple Boys on diet of wings and queso and tries to get them to cheat.

Larz Wapleton...Rassler Formerly Biff and his brothers' bodyguard, Larz is now the taller half of the rasslin' team. Equally as bad as Biff in the ring, but is more intimidating on the mike.

Wally "Walla" Wapleburger...Ex-Manager Long-time manager of the team, Wally left to live with his parents in Warner Robbins. Says he didn't put Spaz in charge. His tongue weighs 12 pounds.

Harvey Wapleman (kneeling)...Financial Advisor/Gossipist/Token Homo Nothing more to say.

Dirxque "Starbuck" Waplepotomus...Mascot The boys took in this loyal half-man/half-hippo/half-stomach thing when his egg was left on their doorstep. He is always where the food is and his feet always hurt.

You step off the plane and notice that you are surrounded by senseless ramblings of one of the worst rasslers anywhere. You've just entered

LARZ LAND

World Wrestling Federation

I guess everyone knows by now that Chris Jericho is on his way to the WWF. He'll probably show up some time in the fall after he's gotten back in shape. I recently saw Chris performing with his band, Fozzy Osbourne. He looked a little flabby (think: Chic Waple—1995 WAPLEworld Swimsuit Issue), but he has awesome stage presence and a great singing voice. Near the end of the show it looked like he put one of the Waples in the Lion Tamer, but when the victim didn't cry I knew it was NOT one of us.

Extreme Championship Wrestling

Speaking of other recent deals, ECW just inked their deal with The Nashville Network, and they'll be on Friday nights starting in August. Hopefully this sort of exposure will help Paul E. to keep some of his talent happy, especially Rob Van Dam, Sabu, and Taz. These guys are much better off staying in Philly, where they will be used properly. (Editor's Note: Hopefully they will stay in Philly, because I've heard they've wanted a piece of the Waples ever since our ex-manager, Wally "Walla" Wapleburger called RVD and Sabu "Boring Faggots" at the Cobb Civic Center last May. Please stay in Philly... pretty please?)

World Championship Wrestling

And while we're on the subject of wrestling shows in Atlanta, why the hell does Nitro come to the Georgia Dome only twice a year? They sell it out every time, the crowd's always great, and they usually put on a pretty good show. How about every other month? Have all the big stars sign autographs at the Dome the day the tickets go on sale (or maybe they didn't hear how many people showed up to get autographs from Steve Austin and The Rock?) If you don't get your act together, another local promotion will take your place as Atlanta's #1 Federation. Why? Because tradition sucks, that's why.

International Wrestling Union

Before I go, here are some quick results of the 6/26 IWU show in Birmingham, AL: Rip Steele hunted down The Predator... "The Pro" Chip Fairway sunk Shark Boy... Spaz Pfitzwaple ate some bad nachos and was in the bathroom for an hour with diarrhea... In a triangle match, The ODD Squad rhymed better than The Beatniks and The Henchman #1 & Prince R... The Silent Terror were louder than The Rock'n'Roll Fantasies (Tracy Smothers & Colt Rivers)... The Islander was too spicy for Redd Hott Chilli Peppa... Dirxque Waplepotomus ate some wings that were too spicy and was in the bathroom for an hour with diarrhea... Bucky Siegler gave a Sunday School lesson to Elijah... Mike Quackenbush ducked defeat and won against Reckless Youth... One Man Gang was too hardcore for Hack Meyers and won the IWU World Heavyweight Championship... Ian & Axl Rotten put thumbtacks in each other's heads and wrestled Pitbull #1 & John Kronus to a Double DQ... Lou Waplemeyer and Spanky Waplespunk were backstage and laughed at the Rottens because of the thumbtacks in their skulls. Axl and Ian then gave the Waple Boys Double Swirlies in the same toilets that Spaz and Dirxque used earlier in the evening.

The full and true story of the Waple prophecy.

WAPLE . . .

the name, the legend

What, you may be saying, is a Waple? What can a Waple do for me? Well, the Waple legend goes back for eons. Let me tell you the tale.

It all started a long time ago, back when TV had no color. In a day where men like Killer Kolwalski, Bruno Samartino, and Larry "the Axe" Hennig ruled the squared circle, there stood a man—a man destined for greatness. A man who feared no other and showed no pain. This man was the infamous Gunther von Waple.

Gunther Von Waple
1973 1973

Gunther's wrestling career spanned some 30 years.

Though he never held a title, he fought in over 10 different states and 37 arenas. He was well versed in technique with 12 different moves in his repitioire. His physical strength was incredible, benching just under 97 lbs. His unique lisping stutter always made for a memorable interview. He was the consummate veteran.

In the summer of 1973, Gunther's dream came true. He was given a title shot. En route to Boise, Idaho, for this match in which he could become the next WCIFCW Studio Champion, his career was cut tragically short when his plane plummeted into the Sahara desert, resulting in his fiery death. Fortunately his 30-year losing streak was finally ended.

Lost was the legend. But Gunther did leave something—four sons: Chet, Bill, Chic, and Biff.

Bill, Chet, Chic and Biff were children like any other children: they played, ran, sung nursery rhymes until they were 12, played in the sandbox dressed up as Dracula, Handsel and Grettel, and Goldilocks. Yes, they were like any other children, except for one thing... they had no mother. Oh, sure they had a mother, (how do you think Gunther got pregnant?) they just never knew who she was.

The youngest of the four brothers was Chet. Born in 1973, he was a breech baby who came out butt-first. Chet had always dreamed about being a boxer, and had always held a grudge toward his brothers.

Next in line was Bill. Bill is short on looks, short on wits, short on charisma and short on height. He was the cute one of the team.

Chic Waple was born tall, with a big butt, and only one testicle. This may have been one of the reasons for his yellow fraidie-cat streak.

The oldest and only known living brother of the four is Biff. Born in 1969, Biff led a life of insecurity and other things. Not much is known about Biff's childhood, except at the moment Biff was born, the doctor put a mask over Biff's head and not a soul has seen his face since, not even his brothers.

The four brothers happened to be on the plane that crashed over the Sahara Desert and took Gunther's life. During the commotion, Biff was separated from his brothers. He was raised by a nice African family of nomads and lived in a hut. At age 7, he traveled with his adopted brother, Kunta, to the United States on a foreign exchange program.

Upon being reunited, the brothers, homeless and parentless, were taken in and cared for by Harvey Wapleman, Gunther's brother's gay lover. Thus begins another chapter in the lives of "the greatest wrestling force ever assembled."

Wally Vs Spaz
Part 1
The Challenge

Spaz: As the new manager of the Waple Boys, I will lead them to VICTORY!

Spaz: Stupid Wally never did that! You see, a good manager must have brains, not beefcake.

WALLY: Who you callin' briefcase, Fat Boy?!?!?

SPAZ: Um,... that's not important. I'm the new manager, and that's...

WALLY: There is no one in the whole world could take my place....

Wally: ...as the only great manager that the Waple Brothers ever had in their entire life.

"Ravishing" Rick Rude Memorial Saturday, July 31, 1999

The IWU is holding another huge summer show, this time at the Gwinnett Civic Center in Duluth. A portion of the proceeds will be given to the American Cancer Society in the name of "Ravishing" Rick Rude. The card is jam-packed top to bottom with great matches, and a few of the Waples will be making a special appearance as well. Here's a brief rundown of what you'll see at the show:

One Man Gang will face the "Extreme Shah" Hack Meyers for the World Heavyweight Title. The World Tag Team Titles are on the line when Phi Del Kappa U tries some fraternity hazing against Ian & Axl Rotten. After having an exciting, high-flying match in Birmingham, the IWU was able to sign Reckless Youth to a World Light Heavyweight Title rematch against champion "Lightning" Mike Quackenbush, with the winner facing off against luchador-wannabe Biff Waple at a future event... in the year 2003.

Bucky Seigler will put his Southern Heavyweight Title on the line against "Highlander" Johnnie Walker, while The Georgia Tag Team Belts are up for grabs when The Rock N Roll Fantasies face the always dangerous team of Prince R and Abuddah, but at least there won't be any nut-grabbin'!! (See SPAZterpiece Theatre below.) In addition there will be a Tag Team Grudge Match between the ODD Squad (Black Jabroni Boy and Sweet Daddy) and The Beatniks (Hep-Cat and Daddy-O). After this match, the Beatniks will begin the grueling training regiment required to face the entire Waple Family in an upcoming Handicap Match. There are several more matches on the card, but the biggest news is that the IWU cut it's ticket prices in half for this show! For more info, go to www.traditionsucks.com.

SPAZ-TERPIECE THEATRE — Hosted by Spaz Pfitzwaple

In this installment of SPAZ-terpiece Theatre, we will learn the story of "The Pfarling Menace", a riveting tale of treachery, tomfoolery, and some good old fashioned nut-grabbing. The whole story can be found at wapleworld.com. Here is a short preview of what is sure to be a WAPLEworld classic:

A while back, in a bathroom sorta close to here...

It is a time of happiness in the world of professional wrestling. Kings of the sport, such as Dick The Bruiser, Bobo Brazil, Killer Kowalski, and Bruno Sammartino are in the primes of their glorious careers.

Yet, trouble is brewing in the indies. A brash, new kid on the circuit, Gunther von Waple, has decided that the only way the indies can compete with the pros is to unite together in an "Indy Federation". He is willing to pay any price to make it happen....

How many counts can we fit on the back page?
One count? Nope, guess again. Two counts? Not even close. Three counts.
Nuh uh. We can fit four counts on the back page of one WAPLEworld.
